Red Cross Quota Raised to $1600

Local Chapter Has Collected Only $590 — Citizens Are Urged to Contribute

Intensification of the Red Cross flood relief drive was decided upon last night at a meeting of the local Red Cross officials who are faced with the problem of raising a quota of $1600, five times the original quota set last Monday when the first appeal came through. Up to last night only $590 had been collected.

The following statement was issued: "The floods in the West are so much in the minds of all that there should be no difficulty in raising funds for relief.

"The Andover chapter of the Red Cross asks for generous gifts. The Quota, originally set by Washington Headquarters at $320, has been raised by them five fold to $1600. Quick giving will be of greatest value and aid to those for whose relief the money will be spent.

"Contributions payable to the Andover Chapter of the Red Cross may be left at the Andover National Bank or be sent to Philip F. Ripley, treasurer and will be acknowledged.

The list of contributors to date follows: Alfred L. Ripley, Rev. A. N. Taft, H. B. Prindle, Free Church Sunday School, J. A. Irvine, Mrs. Rosalie Wood, Miss Florence L. Cummings, Mrs. M. E. Wright, Miss S. R. Carter, Miss Annie S. Lindsay, Miss Jeannette Smith, G. B. Ripley, Miss Dorothy Ruhl, Miss Florence Kimball, F. S. Boutwell, Miss Anna Stone, Miss Grace Lake, E. A. Anderson, The Misses Bell, Geo. T. Eaton and family, Byron C. Hall, H. B. Lewis, F. H. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Morse, Miss Florence I. Abbott, Frank McBride, Mrs. B. F. Chapin, P. F. Ripley, Mrs. F. S. Mills, Miss C. J. Baldwin, Miss Jane B. Carpenter, Shattuck's Espresso, Mrs. Archibald Freeman, Miss A. W. Kuhn, George F. French, Helen Ripley, J. E. Walworth, Mr. and Mrs. R. Lobban, Miss H. deM. Dunn, Miss C. M. Hewes, A. A. Hardy, F. W. Gould, Miss Edna A. Brown, Miss Ethel F. Brown, Miss Evelyn R. Robinson, Mrs. K. B. Ball, Margaret Slattery Class, Mrs. Elizabeth Gallagher, Mrs. V. M. FitzHugh, Mrs. Annie I. Buchan, Mrs. Robert Clements, Mrs. H. D. Learnard, A. Frank Little, H. T. Mailey, P. A. Faculty Dramatic Club, Jean Crayke, Andrew Collins, Stafford A. Lindsay, John A. Anderson, Fred Broadley and the Service Club.

Sanatorium Levy Increases $1,000

Andover's budget will go up by nearly $1,000 this year by virtue of an increase in the Essex county sanatorium assessment just announced. Last year $5,778.38 was assessed on Andover and this year $6,687.51 will be the town's levy.

Increased food and fuel costs and additional clinical expenses are given as the reason for the additional assessment.

Don't Forget 1936 — Help Now!

From every point in this Nation trains are rushing to the Mississippi Valley to help that flood-beleaguered section. Food is being rushed to the famine-threatened residents, clothing is on its way to the destitute, nurses are being sent to help the sick—and behind it all is the American Red Cross.

Andover's quota is $1600. The local Red Cross officers reached into the chapter's treasury immediately and sent as much as possible, and that amount has to be replaced. Every cent that the Red Cross can get is needed down in that stricken sector, and the more Andover can raise, the more help we can be in helping those who were more than willing last year to help us.

Let's not stop at $1600. Let's double it; let's triple it. Reach 'way down into your pocketbook and leave every single cent that you don't absolutely need at the Andover National Bank for the Red Cross. Do it now; they need it now!

Only One Voter Added to Rolls

Joseph O'Brien of North Main street was the only new voter to register Wednesday night at the first pre-election meeting of the Board of Registrars. He is in precinct two.

Two registrations will be held next week. On Tuesday from seven to nine the board will meet in precinct three at the administration building and on Thursday at the same time at West Parish.

BAKERY SALE TOMORROW

A bakery sale will be held tomorrow afternoon from 1.30 to 5 in the vacant store in the Musgrove building by the girls of St. Augustine's parish. The proceeds are for the school.

The committee includes: Misses Mary Moynihan, Eleanor Doherty, Shirley Lacaille, Joan O'Riordan, Mary Ring, and Katherine Smart.

Reach New Peak in Water Income

A new peak in income from water rates was reached by the Board of Public Works last year as the total income for the first time passed the $50,000 mark, gaining $7,000 over last year's figure and nearly $5,000 over the previous peak of 1934.

The 1936 total was $52,605, and the previous high was $47,754 in 1934. The year 1935 saw $45,570 taken in.

It was in 1929 that the $40,000 mark was passed for the first time and in 1922 that the $30,000 mark was passed.

PHILLIPS CLUB LADIES' NIGHT

Walter Prichard Eaton, academy graduate who has entertained many an alumni gathering, spoke on "If Shakespeare Came to Hollywood" Monday evening at the first Ladies' Night held by the Phillips club this year.

Refreshments were served.

Etchings, Engravings in Art Exhibit

Until the sixth of February only, the Addison Gallery is exhibiting a collection of etchings, lithographs, woodcuts and wood engravings by members of the American Artists Group, Inc., an association of well-known artists recently organized. Following a policy of putting good contemporary art within the reach of an appreciative public of moderate means, they have issued a number of small reproductions of their work, attractively mounted to sell as inexpensive Christmas cards; and in the current series of prints they offer their original work for sale in large quantities at a price unprecedentedly low.

Three years ago, when Rockwell Kent—a member of this group—was in Andover lecturing, he related a conversation which he had had with a successful businessman, the head of a large department store. Rockwell Kent had suggested to him that the department store should sell large editions of his prints at a low price—ten or fifteen dollars—in order that owning and enjoying his work should not be restricted to the small group of people able to afford them.

The head of the department store, however, refused Kent's offer. He felt that what he called "fine art prints" should not be sold so cheap. Whether it was because he thought that his customers would not think the prints worth buying if they cost so little, or whether he was afraid that the market for highly priced prints would suffer, I do not remember; but I do remember that Mr. Kent was of the opinion that his friend had not the least idea of what he meant by "art prints" except that they ought to be expensive for the sake of the dignity of both Art and Business.

Whatever Mr. Kent's business man had in mind when he spoke of his "fine art prints," what Rockwell Kent wanted to sell to as many people as possible, in order to spread the appreciation of his art and craftsmanship, were his own original prints, his lithographs, wood engravings or etchings, that is pictures

Town Meeting to Come in Evening

Selectmen Vote Monday Night to Start Meeting at Seven—To Be Held in Auditorium

The annual town meeting this year will be held at seven in the evening, the board of selectmen decided Monday evening. A note has been sent to the school committee asking that the use of the Memorial auditorium be granted for the evening of March 8th. The school board meets in regular session next Tuesday evening and the request will be granted at that time.

The change from the afternoon session is being made to afford more citizens an opportunity to attend, the present arrangement making it difficult for people with jobs which they find it hard to leave.

The directors of the Taxpayers' association, meeting down the hall from the selectmen's office, were discussing the question at the same time as the selectmen were, without knowing it, and a committee had been appointed to conduct a postal card poll of members to see what the sentiment was on this proposition. The new president, Edmond Hammond, interviewed the selectmen as to what would have to be done, and he was told that the board had voted to hold the meeting at seven, thus making further action unnecessary.

Academy Student Rescued by Scout

A Phillips academy student was saved from drowning Sunday in Pumps' pond when George G. Brown, Jr., 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Brown of Andover street, crept across the ice on his stomach and held out a long pole to the student who had crashed through the thin ice. Mr. Brown assisted his son, a Boy Scout belonging to troop 74, in pulling the lad to safety.

Two academy boys fell in, but one managed to make his way to solid ice and pull himself to safety. They had ventured out onto the dangerously thin ice after playing hockey and fell through into about fourteen feet of water.

PLAN VICTORY SUPPER

County Commander Chester A. Grant of Gloucester will be the speaker at the victory supper to be held by the Local Legion on the evening of February 18 when the present membership drive will come to a close. Accompanying him will be county vice commander Joseph Hines of Swampscott and his suite which will initiate the new members.

NOTICE

Must Be the Weather

From Maine to California, or at least from Shawsheen village to California, they don't like the way we spell January. Last Friday evening a reader in Shawsheen village called to tell us that "Jaunary" was not the correct spelling, and after looking at the date line on the front page, we agreed that something didn't look quite right with it. But after glancing at the other front pages we have put out since January 1, we have almost decided that January by now should be an accepted spelling, since custom really determines how a word should be spelled and it has been our custom for four weeks to spell it with the u before the n. On Wednesday, however, we received a letter from our proof reader who is half-through a two months' stay in California, and she suggested that we do a little transposing. So, unless we forget, the customary spelling of January will appear on the front page instead of the Townsman version.

P.S.—Before next week will somebody tell us whether it's February or Feburary?

Autopsy

Dr. Victor A. Reed, former medical examiner, is used to autopsies, but newspapermen aren't. The doctor drove up to the cemetery tomb off Corbett street last Saturday afternoon, stepped out of his car into the frigid January air that used to be synonymous with New England, doffed his overcoat, suit coat and vest, rolled up his sleeves, put a rubber apron on and a pair of rubber gloves, and then started in.

Off to one side, out of view of the autopsy, was the Dover lawyer who had been the means through which the autopsy was performed but who preferred not to see the end to those means. Huddled around the door of the tomb were the newspapermen, some veterans from Boston, others a little beyond the cub stage. They didn't have to watch—their story would merely read: "Dr. Reed performed an autopsy, etc." but that curiosity which makes people want to see things that they don't really want to see held them there to watch the gruesome spectacle.

The doctor paused but twice in the whole performance, once to ask for a cigarette and the other time to tell the newsmen, by way of cheering them up, that the worst job he had ever done was when he had to dig up the body of a Lawrence man murdered in New York, buried in a Lawrence cellar, and found a couple of years after his burial, done without benefit of embalming.

The details of the autopsy we do not care to tell, because we don't like to remember it. Suffice it to say that it was gruesome enough to make one of the cemetery helpers retreat with all the outward signs of mal de mer and to give all the members present of a supposedly hardened profession a combination of greenish-purplish coloring in their tightly-drawn faces.

Woolworth Store Opened Today

The F. W. Woolworth Company this morning opened their new five and ten cent store at 46 Main street, having been able to secure a suitable location here after several years of waiting. The opening sale will continue all day today and tomorrow, featuring a number of specials advertised in today's Townsman.

The new modern store has ample floor space for the customers and ample display space for the wide assortment of articles to be sold at the store. It is on the site formerly occupied by Peterson's Men's store. The new building adjoins both the Arco building and the Barnard property, and extends much farther to the rear than any other Main street store, capping the brook which crosses under Main street at this point.

The manager is Mr. DeMaranville, and all the help in the store are local people.

HOSPITAL SEWING MEETING

The February sewing meeting of the Lawrence General hospital will be held Tuesday afternoon, February 2nd, in the Methodist church, Railroad square, Methuen, from two to five. Sewing for the hospital. Tea will be served.

President Chosen by Tax Directors

Edmond E. Hammond was elected president of the Andover Taxpayers' association Monday evening at the meeting of the newly-elected directors held in the court-room. He succeeds Bernard L. McDonald, who declined renomination because of the many demands on his time. A rising vote of thanks was given Mr. McDonald.

J. Augustus Remington was named vice-president.

A note of resignation as director was received from Walter E. Curtis, who has been seriously ill for the past few months at his home. The directors voted not to accept it, and instructed the secretary to write Mr. Curtis to that effect with the hope that he would not find it necessary to segregate himself entirely from the movement which he played such a very important part in establishing and carrying on.

In order to make preparations for the coming town meeting a committee of five was appointed to contact the finance committee of the town in connection with the annual budget. The committee includes: Mr. Remington, Edward P. Hall, Joseph McCarthy, Henry S. Hopper and E. Barton Chapin.

Scotch Service to Be Held Sunday

Dr. Carleton LeRoy Feener of Whitinsville will be the preacher at the Free church Scotch service Sunday morning, taking the place of Rev. Alexander Henderson of Lowell, who has been ill.

Scotch hymns will be sung, and Clan Johnston and its auxiliary will attend in a body.

TO SEE SNOW TRAIN FILM

The Boston and Maine railroad film of the Snow Train, recently seen in Shawsheen village, will be shown Thursday evening at the meeting of the Square and Compass club in the club hall.

BRITISH AUXILIARY MEETS

A meeting of the British War Veterans auxiliary was held Wednesday evening in the Square and Compass club hall.

Refreshments were served by the following committee: Mrs. Gladys Porter, Mrs. Allison Robertson, Miss Margaret Reid, Mrs. Harry Rose, Mrs. William Vannett, Miss Agnes Stewart and Mrs. Anne Renny.

To Repeat "Tom Sawyer" Tonight

A large and appreciative audience witnessed the first performance of "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer" given in the Memorial Auditorium on Thursday afternoon at 3:30 p.m.

The performance will be repeated this evening at 8:00 p.m. in the auditorium. The tickets are 35 cents each.

Each character interpreted his part yesterday in an excellent manner and the entire cast is to be congratulated on the fine presentation.

The cast is as follows:

Tom Sawyer, an all-American boy

William Ferguson

Huckleberry Finn, the village outcast

Harold Hudon

Aunt Polly, Tom's aunt

Ruth Keith

Mary, Tom's cousin

Dorothy Davidson

Sidney, Tom's half-brother

Stafford Lindsay

Becky Thatcher, Tom's "adored one"

Patsy Arnold

Mrs. Sereny Harper, a neighbor

Dorothy Miller

Joe Harper, her young son, and Tom's bosom pal

James Carmichael

Susy Harper, her daughter

Helen MacMillan

Widow Douglas, who knows all the news

Nancy Thomas

Jim, a young servant boy

Philip Beck

Sheriff

John Miller

Between Acts I and II Norrie Johnson and Charles Sawyer rendered "School Days," and at the close of Act II, a girls' chorus presented "Love's Old Sweet Song"—Molloy. In the chorus were Christine Hill, Betty McDonald, Jeanne Fisk, Marjorie Crosby, Lillian Lovely, Madeleine Grout, Martha Tyer, Eleanor Dwyer, Nancy Rice, and Norrie Johnson, sopranos; and Constance Swenson, Dorothy Christie, Priscilla Moss, Barbara Gahn, Elinor Houston, Alda Grieco, Helen Walsh, Jane Patterson, Helen Barss, and Charlotte Eaton, altos.

Those who have worked hard to make this play a success are Miss Mabel Marshall who has coached the cast, Miss Mary Bailey, who with her Dramatic Club, has arranged the costumes and scenery, Miss Evelyn Oliver, who has served as Business Manager, Miss Miriam Sweeney who has directed the music, and Miss Beatrice Stevens, who, with the Press Club, has acted as advertising manager.

The ushers were the following ninth grade boys: R. Flanagan, A. Hamilton, R. MacMackin, P. Pasho, W. Renny, F. Roberts, W. Richardson, R. Simmers and Darrell Sprague.

SERVICE CLUB SENDS

MRS. CHURCH SYMPATHY

Following is a note of sympathy sent by the Service club to Mrs. Alfred C. Church on the death of the late Rev. Mr. Church. By vote of the club it was spread upon its records.

DEAR MRS. CHURCH:

The Andover Service Club is saddened by the loss of its member, Rev. Alfred C. Church, through sudden death. His presence was a symbol of fellowship. His genial, his invariable courtesy, his conscientious attention to all that the Club stands for will be remembered gratefully.

To his family goes our sincere sympathy.

Home of George Gibson Browns Once Residence of Commodore Perry's Son

Another of Andover's old homes is the Daniel Poor-Perry house at 68 Phillips street, facing the bend as it enters Central street. The present residents are Mr. and Mrs. George Gibson Brown and family.

Deacon Daniel Poor built the attractive old house about 1763. The South church deacon served in the Benjamin Ames company during the world war.

Later the home became the property of Francis Cogswell, Esq., and still later it was occupied by Captain Oliver Hazard Perry, son of the famous Commodore Perry. The wife of Professor E. Y. Hincks was a daughter of Captain Perry.

After Mr. Cogswell left the old house he went to Abbott village where he built the house now occupied by Campbell's store.

The next occupant of the Poor-Perry house following Captain Perry was George H. Torr, from whom Torr road which cuts off between Central and Phillips streets was named. Later two nieces of Mrs. Torr, the Misses Ward, resided there, and when they moved to Newton, Mr. and Mrs. Brown occupied the house. Miss Harriet Ward died recently.

Woman's Club to Hear City Editor

The Shawsheen Village Woman's club will hold its regular monthly meeting in Balmoral hall Monday evening, February 1. Ray Kierman, city editor of a Boston daily paper will speak on "Drama of News in the Making." He is a radio commentator and author and presents his subject in a vitally interesting and graphic manner. Music will be furnished by the Andover Male Choir under the direction of J. Everett Collins.

This meeting is under the direction of the Press and Publicity chairman, Mrs. Clinton H. Stevens and Mrs. William W.

Kurth will be chairman of hostesses for the evening.

The Dramatic department meeting will be held February 5 at 2.30 at the home of Mrs. H. Garrison Holt, Canterbury street.

ARBROATHIANS TO MARK

SECOND ANNIVERSARY

The second anniversary of the Andover Arbroathians will be observed Monday evening in the Guild. A skit, "Bachelors' Reverie," will be presented after the supper which will start at eight.

The committee: John Greenhow, James Watt, Alex Auchterlonie, George Gordon, Edward Anderson, Mrs. Greenhow, Mrs. William Watt and Mrs. George Petrie.

Former Residents in Program Here

Scotty Munroe and his Gang will give a personal appearance at Fraternal hall next Wednesday evening. Scotty, now living in Boston, is Kirk Auchterlonie, formerly of this town. His gang consists of very clever dancers, singers and harmonica players.

Among those who will take part are: Baby Jean Lusiner, four-year-old singer and dancer who has just completed a tour of the United States and Canada and will shortly leave Boston again for a movie test. Her brother Nelson will be with her. Harry Anderson and his harmonica units, radio artists for ten years, will also entertain.

Another dancer will be Helen St. Clair, daughter of a former Andover couple. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Mathieson, Mrs. John Sutcliffe of Main street and Mr. Auchterlonie were known as the four St. Clairs, international dancers.

One of Boston's dancing teachers, Miss Phyllis Warden, and her dancers will also appear on the program. Miss Warden is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Warden, formerly of Abbott village.

Radio Goofs to Present Program

The "Radio Goofs," well-known Boston radio performers, will present a personal appearance at the Free church vestry Friday evening, February 19, at 7.45, under the auspices of the ways and means committee. The program is partly humorous and partly in a semi-serious mood.

The Goofs include the well-known Del Castillo, organist; Bill Elliott, the singing cop of Hampton Beach; Jack Beauvais and Ray Gerardin.

Dearth of Special Articles Only Encouraging Sign to Town's Taxpayers

Probably one of the most encouraging situations that the taxpayers of this town have seen in many years is the almost complete absence so far of special articles sponsored by private citizens for the annual warrant. Usually at this time of year persons having no official capacity in the town besiege the Board of Public Works for estimates on water, street and sewer jobs which later are submitted to the selectmen in petitions for special articles. To date there has not been a single request for an estimate, and there has been but one hint that there might be a special privately-requested road job.

This is as it should be. In the past many projects of doubtful wisdom have been submitted merely because someone in the particular district involved wanted to have it done, and with people all over the town interested in some special, limited project, the warrant more often than not was flooded with a large number of road, water and sewer articles which threatened to send the tax rate into the stratosphere. Some of the articles were passed, some not, but the people at town meeting could not really be qualified to make a comparative judgment of the worthiness of the different projects, the result being that too often unnecessary jobs were done and necessary work forgotten.

The town elects a Board of Public Works to take care of its highways, water works, sewers, parks, etc. This board is not interested in any particular section of the town, but rather it is concerned with the general condition of the whole town in the matters under its own supervision. It knows from study which jobs have to be done and which do not have to be done or can be held over for another year. If any special roadwork is to be done, it should be this board which asks for it, and not someone who lives on that particular road and naturally is not as interested in other roads as in his own.

The feeling that a certain number of projects have to be done seems to pervade the thought behind town meeting action, but if there are no projects, that erroneous feeling will be of no avail. The way the regular departmental budgets are shaping up at present, and the large number of special requests for equipment by the departments prove that no private citizen is needed to boost the tax rate this year.

Psychopathic Drivers

When the taxpayers of this town travel up to the new auditorium on the evening of March the eighth for the annual town meeting, they will have an opportunity to see the results of a crime against their pocket-books. Everywhere across that newly-graded and newly-seeded lawn near the junior high, auditorium and high school buildings are deep ruts made by automobiles whose operators very probably could not pass any kind of a mental test if that were required in the pre-license stage. The driveways were all carefully laid out to provide the maximum of convenience for the motorist, but today's automobilist is in a hurry, and if it will help him save a second to cut across a new lawn, he goes right ahead and does it, later wondering why his tax bill is so large. One machine with a driver whose I.Q. would probably be a little lower than a year-old baby who was born insane drove completely around the three buildings on the lawn, cutting deep into new and old turf alike. This spring the school committee will have to hire someone to regrade those sections, the grading of which the townspeople have already paid for.

Siftings

The auto strike indicates that whereas President Roosevelt's problem four years ago consisted of people who wanted work, his problem this year is people who don't want to work.

Road jobs are completed here every year, but "Ole River road, she just keeps rollin' along."

The chief difference between the evening and afternoon town meetings is that we'll get sleepy instead of hungry at the end.

The Board of Public Works report that Andover drank $6,000 more water last year should be followed by a very optimistic Board of Health report.

That flood of ours must have been just a puddle.

Select Cast for Washington Ball

George and Martha Washington in the Andover Historical society's presentation of "A Musical Evening at Mount Vernon," on February 20, will be portrayed by William A. Trow, president of the society, and Mrs. Trow. The scenario has been written by Edwin T. Brewster. Mrs. Henry C. Sanborn has charge of the costuming, Mrs. F. Tyler Carlton, of the stage setting, and Mrs. H. Allison Morse of the musical program.

CONTRIBUTES TO RED CROSS

Alfred J. Merritt of Connecticut, a member of the Social Security staff in Boston, gave an instructive talk on the security act at the meeting of the Service club last night.

The club voted to donate $25 to the Red Cross for food relief.

ON TOWN MEETING

Editor of Townsman:

Your editorial in your column last week, about holding our town meeting in the evening hit the nail on the head. Why should eight or nine hundred people, mostly two dollar poll taxpayers, who always crowd the town meeting, every year vote on every article in the town warrant, while others, say two or three thousand, are working and find it impossible to attend these meetings when they are held in the afternoon, giving us, the real taxpayers, no time to vote on what money and how much we are to spend on our town government? . . .

Also why not put some of the articles, such as the wages of the town officials and employees on the ballot, and let the people decide that way instead of by a standing vote at the regular town meeting. I think many people would vote "No" on a number of articles if they were placed on the ballot, but as it is now are afraid to stand up for fear of causing hard feelings toward some of the people who this raise in wages, etc., would affect.

JAMES SCULLY

Phillips Librarian Planning to Retire

Miss Sarah L. Frost, head-librarian at Phillips academy for 25 years, will retire this June at the end of the school year. She will spend some time enjoying a rest following which she will take up some less arduous library work.

In 1912 when the library, until then just a comparatively few books housed in the old Main building, was moved to the second floor of Brechin hall, Miss Frost became the academy librarian. She worked without any staff for many years, but now with the library in the attractive, commodious new Oliver Wendell Holmes building, there is a large library staff.

It was in 1897 that Archibald Freeman of the faculty suggested to his students that a library might prove useful. A scholarship boy collected sixty dollars and this amount was spent for books, with other small sums becoming available later. There were 550 books in the old Main building collection, while today there are nearly 45,000, giving the academy possibly the largest school library in the country.

ATTEND JOINT MEETING

Eight members of the Andover League of Women Voters attended a joint luncheon meeting of the Boston and Massachusetts League of Women Voters Tuesday afternoon at the Hotel Tournai. Juvenile courts and the proposed Suffolk county bill were discussed, with Mrs. Robert DeNormandie presiding.

Those attending from Andover were: Mrs. G. Morton Fuller, Mrs. A. Graham Baldwin, Mrs. John S. Barss, Mrs. Harold Rafton, Mrs. Granville Clark, Mrs. Cleveland Gilcreast, Mrs. Henry G. Tyer and Mrs. Robert B. Maxwell.

State Commander Addresses V F W

State Commander Joel L. Miller and staff visited Andover V. F. W. post Friday evening. The State Commander gave a resume of the many fine accomplishments by the department for 1936. The Home for Christmas campaign netted enough funds to enable the State Commander to send home for the Christmas holidays 500 ex-service men who are in the hospitals throughout New England. These men do not receive any compensation from the government, thus making this particular work more beneficial to all who were so aided.

There were also 200 relatives brought to the hospitals to spend the day with their loved ones who were unable to be sent home. All expenses were paid to both groups, making it indeed a Merry Christmas for them.

The Veterans' homes for widows and orphans in Grand Rapids, Mich., were also commended by the State Commander. Here are individual cottages where worthy mothers and their children are given every consideration due them. Families are in this way kept together under one roof, and the children educated in high school, trade schools and college if they are fitted and able to carry on college work. There are 500 acres of land with cottages representing every state in the Union. There is also a hospital and a large community building for entertainment. This worthy project is supported by the annual Poppy Day sale conducted by the V. F. W. organization and individual member donations.

The Commander spoke of the many agencies that are available to help veterans who have to go away from their homes in their search for health. Railroad fares are paid by these agencies and while en route to the health institution in the far West, everything for their comfort is done by these agencies of mercy.

He spoke of unity between all veteran organizations for the common good of all veterans, and he pledged himself to cooperate with all of the various veteran organizations so that a united front will meet any emergency that will arise in the future.

Chief of Staff Hennessey talked about a membership drive which is now on and he pledged himself not only to do all in his power to draw to the organization more members but he also asked assistance to close the back door so that all on the roll would continue to be members in good standing.

Aide-de-camp Edward White of Newton wished for Andover post success in its drive for new members. There were two applications received and every member is acting as a committee of one to enlist one or more new or old recruits.

There were 50 members present and an hour of entertainment was enjoyed after which refreshments were served.

The next meeting of the post will be held on next Friday evening. This will be a business meeting and balloting on candidates will be in order.

PLAN VALENTINE PARTY

Plans for the annual Valentine party will be made next Wednesday afternoon at the meeting of the Mothers' club in the Punched drawing-room at two. All members are urged to be present.

A meeting of the directors was held yesterday at the home of Mrs. Annie P. Davis on Harding street.

Ask Appropriation for Band Concerts

A request for $200 as a special appropriation for four public band concerts will be made at the annual town meeting, according to a petition now in circulation. The concerts would be given by the Andover brass band, one at Shawsheen, one in Ballardvale and two in the center of the town.

Hold Autopsy on Mrs. Roy's Body

With all the legal entanglements cleared up which had kept the body of Mrs. Eva Pelletier Roy underground for a week after her grave had first been opened, an autopsy was conducted by former medical examiner Dr. Victor A. Reed last Saturday afternoon at the Sacred Heart cemetery tomb, in an effort to verify or disprove Mrs. Roy's mother's suspicions that her daughter had not met a natural death.

The grave was reopened Saturday shortly before noon, and the coffin was transferred to the tomb. Both outside box and coffin were falling apart after their nearly two years in the earth. Accompanied by Attorney Ovilla Gregoire of Dover, N. H., counsel for the mother, Dr. Reed arrived about 2:30 and immediately set to work on the autopsy. The clothes were badly decomposed as was the body, but he found the organs intact. These he later turned over to Dr. Carl Eidam at the Lawrence General hospital for a chemical analysis.

Attorney Gregoire stated that he had been in Andover last Friday afternoon in an endeavor to straighten out the legal tie ups which had made Chief of Police George A. Dane decide the previous week to have the grave filled in again.

TWO WEEKS' GREATER

BOSTON DRIVE OPENS

Local leaders of Greater Boston's 1937 Community Fund Campaign, headed by N. P. Hallowell, Community chairman, expressed confidence, as the two weeks' campaign opened Monday that Andover would meet its share. The minimum goal of $4,160,000 includes $60,000 added to meet the emergency call for Red Cross relief in the Midwest and South.

The Metropolitan Division of the Community Fund, which includes Andover, is functioning in 70 communities neighboring to Boston, even in such far-flung areas as Worcester and Provincetown.

Interdependence of the local community and Boston, of local agencies and the 104 hospitals, health and social service agencies in Greater Boston's Community, is a point which must not be overlooked, emphasized Mr. Hallowell.

BITTEN BY DOG

A Pekinese dog owned by a Washington avenue resident bit Jean Allicon, two and a half year old daughter of Mrs. Leo Allicon of 79 Pine street, on the left cheek Monday afternoon. The dog has been ordered restrained.

Obituaries

Mrs. Evelyn Dowe

Mrs. Evelyn (Haskell) Dowe passed away at 1:40 Sunday morning, almost exactly three days after death had taken Mrs. Mary E. Farmer with whom she resided at 43 Whittier street.

Mrs. Dowe was born in Deer Isle, Me., 74 years ago, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Courtney Haskell. She had resided here for 25 years.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Charles Noyes of New York and two brothers, Charles H. of Norwich, Conn., and Harry S., of New York.

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at the Lundgren undertaking parlors by Rev. Frederick B. Noss. Burial was in Yantic cemetery, Norwich, Conn.

Mrs. Mary E. Farmer

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Farmer, third oldest resident of Andover, who died last Thursday at her home, 43 Whittier street, were held Sunday afternoon at the late home. Rev. Frederick B. Noss, pastor of the South church of which Mrs. Farmer was the oldest attendant, conducted the services. Burial was in the Tewksbury cemetery.

The bearers were: William Birnie, Woodruff Farmer, William Crompton and Gilbert Chadwick.

Mrs. Claire Newcomb

Mrs. Claire Newcomb, a native of England but a resident of Ballardvale for many years, died Monday morning at her home on Chester street. She was the widow of Willard Newcomb.

She leaves three sons, Willard, George and Edward; three daughters, Mrs. Charles Hamilton, Mrs. Aubin Chaisson and Miss Edith Newcomb; a sister, Mrs. Walter Winn of Methuen, and a brother, John Wilson of South Brunswick, Me.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning, with a mass of requiem at St.

Augustine's church, with Rev. John B. Leonard, O.S.A., officiating. Miss Annie Donovan sang. Burial was in Spring Grove cemetery.

The bearers were: James Newcomb, Richard O'Brien, Edward Gaudet, Charles Flynn, Charles Hadley and Alfred Chaisson.

John J. Schofield

A solemn high mass of requiem will be held at St. Augustine's church tomorrow morning at 9:30 for John J. Schofield, 54, who died Wednesday at his home, 1610 Chapel street, New Haven. Born and educated in Andover, he had lived in New Haven for the past thirty years, being employed as a claim adjuster for the New York, New Haven and Hartford.

The body is to be removed to the home of his brother, Harry Schofield, 14 Cuba street. Other survivors are: his wife, Mrs. Alice (Bittner) Schofield; two sons, John J., Jr., and Russell; a daughter, Anita; another brother, Thomas of Hartford, Conn., and four sisters, Mrs. Catherine Eastwood, Mrs. Joseph Gill, Miss Annie Schofield and Miss Julia Schofield.

Augustus V. Heeley

Augustus V. Heely, father of Allan V. Heely, headmaster of Lawrenceville school and former assistant dean at Phillips academy, passed away yesterday in Plainfield, N. J., pneumonia bringing on his death. The funeral will probably be held tomorrow in Plainfield.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Jones announce the engagement of their niece, Miss Claire M. Lowry of 25 North Lowell street, Methuen, to James M. Jennings, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jennings of 51 Shawmut street, Lawrence.

Miss Lowry and Mr. Jennings are well known in Shawheen Village, both having positions in the Spa.

In Memoriam

Mrs. Evelyn Haskell Dowe

A life of courage and happiness that comes from the determination to be happy came to a sudden end on Sunday morning, when Mrs. Evelyn Dowe died after a few days' illness at the town infirmary. Her recent years had been spent very quietly at the home of Miss Nellie Farmer on Whittier street and not many people of Andover realized the sparkling gaiety and enthusiasm which animated the quiet little woman whose life seemed lonely and ineffectual. Her early years in Norwich, Conn., at Smith college and in Europe had given her a background of more than local interests, and her friendship was a treasured possession by more than she herself knew. Of recent years, ill health had been a handicap, but her invincible courage was admirable, and she made herself contented with the blessings that are open to us all. Her summers in Maine were a source of delight to her all the year, and she has left a memory of wholesomeness and happiness behind her.

Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Temple of Bartlet street and Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Miller of Florence street will leave on Sunday for Florida where they will enjoy a month's sojourn.

Discuss Problem at West Center

A meeting of various town officials was held last Saturday afternoon at the West Center school in connection with the playground situation at the school. Members of the school board, the selectmen and the special West Center committee authorized by the last town meeting, were present.

William A. Trow outlined the history of the site, pointing out that the old school used to stand parallel with Lowell street on the site now occupied by the little triangular plot and the branch of Beacon street. This little plot, Mr. Trow finds, belongs to the town. The only deed that could be found for the land that the school now stands on is for a piece of ground not large enough to hold the school.

It is hoped that some arrangement can be made with Miss Pike regarding her land to the rear of the school. Miss Pike has engaged counsel to conduct her negotiations.

YOUNG MARRIED GROUP MEET

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Milligan and Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Black were hosts to the Young Married Group of the Free church Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Black on Walnut avenue.

After plans for an entertainment to take place in the church in the near future were discussed, games and stunts were enjoyed and refreshments served by Mrs. Milligan and Mrs. Black.

Couples attending included Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey Nicoll, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Fraser, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Jackson and Mr. and Mrs. Milligan and Mr. and Mrs. Black.

The next meeting of the group will be on February 10.

SUCCESSFUL WHIST

A very successful whist and bridge was held Tuesday evening in the K. of C. rooms by the Catholic Daughters. Refreshments were served. Mrs. George Manock, Mrs. Frank Welch and Mrs. William Doherty were in charge.

The Grange

Miss Mabel Barron was in charge of refreshments.

The Dramatic club of the Grange met at the home of the president, Floyd Darby, in Tewksbury on Thursday evening.

Of interest to many Grangers is the fact that Roland Trauschke is the fourth son to follow in his father's footsteps as master of Andover Grange. The others are Chester Abbott son of James J. Abbott, Ralph Bailey, son of Samuel H. Bailey, and Arthur R. Lewis, son of Herbert Lewis.

The executive committee have charge of the program for the 47th anniversary and Mary Schindler, state lecturer will be the speaker of the evening.

The meeting of Pomona Grange at Groveland February 4 has an excellent program planned.

Richardson School to Be Used Again

The Board of Selectmen at its meeting Monday evening voted to permit the Shawsheen Village Community association to use the Richardson school as a community center. Plans are rapidly being perfected for the necessary repairs to the building and improvement to the grounds in preparation for spring and summer activities.

Much interest has developed among the residents of the village and many who have volunteered financial assistance and labor to have the building completed at the earliest possible time. A meeting of the directors will be called shortly to arrange for starting the work.

Blood Transfusion Proves Too Late

With three local policemen and two local firemen standing ready to give blood transfusions, Willis Otis, 24, of 9 Hillside avenue died early Wednesday evening at the Lawrence General hospital. It was found that the transfusion would be too late to do any good, and so the operation was not performed.

Those who stood ready to donate their blood after a blood test were: Chief

George A. Dane, Officer Carl H. Stevens and Officer William R. Hickey of the police department, and Lieutenant Albert Cole and Ralph Baker of the fire department.

The young man had been ill for about a week, but his condition was not considered serious until Tuesday.

The young man attended Rochester, N. H. high school, the University of New Hampshire and Northeastern university. He leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Winslow W. Otis.

Funeral services will be held at the late home tomorrow morning, and interment will be in the Rochester cemetery.

EDITORIAL—DRAMATIC CLUB

One of the things which we hold much pride in in this school, is the Dramatic Club. This active body is a fine example of what our school has in it and what these things can produce. These young people have shown that they have what it takes, and their ability will carry them far in the years that lie ahead. In recent assemblies they have shown great talent in their works, but now there lies ahead the greatest test of their young careers.

Tonight these young players will present the play "Tom Sawyer." They have put many hours of their time into this. They have stayed after school, given up study periods, and sacrificed their hours of leisure. This play, however, has proven that they have not wasted their time. Recently, when the school was given a preview of several acts of the play, they wildly acclaimed it.

To Miss Marshall we owe much credit. She has worked on it, coached the players, and given much of her time. The play's success is largely due to her efforts. Miss Bailey has been a great aid in the decorating and setting up of the scenery.

We also owe our appreciation to Miss Oliver for the untiring work she has done in handling the distribution of tickets.

The Dramatic Club has also been largely responsible for many of the other fine entertainments in the past that we have had.

It shows what can be accomplished when such a fine group of youngsters are brought together and organized to bring out hidden talent and develop that which has already been acquired. You can readily see that the efforts and time put into the work are not wasted. It helps the pupil in many ways, such as doing away with stage-fright, bashfulness, and fear of public speaking.

They do not only study the various phases of acting, but they also study dramatics as well. So you can see that it is one of the most instructive clubs that we have. Its educational value is great to the pupil in later life. They know this and appreciate it. Their work shows their whole-hearted interest and desire to give the best that is in them. If they did not, their performances could never be of the excellent quality that they are. Oftentimes they put on little plays for themselves and their own entertainment.

One may see that these players, with a little further training, in a few years will perhaps be at their peak of perfection. They know that they have a wonderful opportunity and advantage in this club; thus, their great desire for betterment. We wish that every pupil in the school had the chance of this training.

The public will have their chance to see these players tonight, and anyone who passes up this opportunity has missed the chance of a lifetime. The price is thirty-five cents for adults. You have all read the book. Now see the play enacted by these talented actors and actresses. A rich and uproarious entertainment is promised. May the Dramatic Club continue to live on and further its purpose. Also may it always continue to produce such an enthusiastic and ambitious group of players as it has begun to do.

OPEN COUNCIL MEETING

On Wednesday during assembly the new Student Council, composed of the Presidents and Vice-Presidents elected last Friday, held an open meeting, during which Student Government officers were nominated for the second school term. Those nominated were Warren Richardson and Augustine Rapisardi for President; Elinor Houston and William Ferguson for Vice-President; Janet Carter and Barbara Gahm for Secretary, and Katherine Bixby and Charles Sawyer for Treasurer. Of these, A. Rapisardi, E. Houston, J. Carter and C. Sawyer were the officers who were selected for the first half year. Each of these candidates is now carrying on a campaign, at the close of which the entire school will vote for the second half-year officers.

—FREDERIC McDUFFIE

NOTES

Members of the seventh grade Social Studies classes are making pictorial maps showing the many products found in the United States. These maps are being made in the art classes.

In its study of the problems of American culture, 9-2 is discussing what Americans read. An exhibition of magazines is being arranged in which the class will show the quality of various magazines, the popular ones, the sensational ones, etc.

—BENJAMIN COLE

The attractive cover on the programs for "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer" was designed by William Ferguson of 9-2.

Mary Helen Brother has moved to Urbana, Illinois. She was a member of 8-1 and on the Traffic Squad.

GYM TEAM EXHIBITION

Once again we wish to announce one of the biggest events of our school year—the coming of the Springfield Gym team on February 13.

It is hoped that this event may inspire the junior and senior high school boys to develop themselves physically by taking an active part in the real gymnastic work which is now being carried on under the direction of Mr. Dunn, who is a Springfield man himself.

Baseball, football, etc. are all right as sports, but to develop all muscles to the greatest degree, gymnastic work of the type offered by this team will be more far-reaching in its effects than baseball, etc. It is hoped that many will avail themselves of this opportunity to see this famous gym team in action.

—FRANKLIN ROBERTS, JR.

CLUB NOTES

The Latin Club has been discussing the Roman methods of warfare and the Roman armies.

The Book Club has been enjoying "Courage of the Commonplace" by Mary Andrews.

Two new books have been purchased by the Library Club. These are "The Making of an American" by Jacob A. Riis and "Contemporary Poetry" by Wilkinson.

The Debating Club has been enjoying regular debates during club period.

—VASCO E. NUNEZ, JR.

The Boys' Club directed by Miss Trott elected new officers as follows: President, Howard Proctor; Vice-President, Fred Goebel; Secretary, Robert Burnham; Treasurer, Gordon Grant. During the rest of the period they saw some moving pictures on football.

The Boys' Sports Club for Girls elected new officers as follows: President, Isabelle Dobbie; Vice President, Anne McCarthy; and Secretary, Florence Nicoll. The girls have played ping-pong in the ping-pong room directed by Mr. Blanchard.

—MARION C. FOYE

RECEIVE DENTAL CERTIFICATE

ENGLISH CLASS EXHIBIT

Some very interesting projects have been made by the members of the 9-1 English class under Miss Trott's supervision. These individual projects show great skill on the part of the pupils. They are from the book "Ivanhoe" by Scott. Some of the names of the pupils and their projects are as follows: "The Tournament Grounds" by Donald Boynton and Jack Mudge. A project similar to this was built by George Brown. Two dolls representing "Rowena" were presented by Catherine Bixby and Barbara Gahm. "The Hermit's Cell" was made by Maroy

Tallest, Oldest Man on Police Force Was Once Generous Grocery Clerk

A generous young man was Sergeant Len Saunders when he was a boy grocery clerk over in North Andover. One day when the proprietor was out in back, a lady came in, gave Len an order which he put up, and then he added quite a generous quantity of candy and other delicacies which he told the customer with a very grandiose gesture wouldn't cost her anything. The proprietor, however, on returning decided differently.

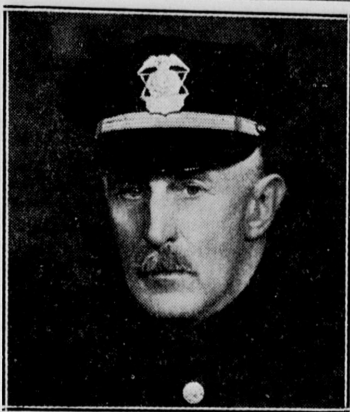

Len was born over in North Andover in June of 1876, and just so you won't have to figure it all out yourself, we'll tell you that he has almost ten more years on the force. He went to school in North Andover, attending Johnson high. He came to Andover in 1894, "because his parents moved here," and he shortly secured employment with Smith and Manning as order clerk. Here although he did pass out oranges to boys who came on the delivery wagons from the wholesale grocers, Len was not quite so generous as he was in his earlier employment. One of the boys was named little Willie Shaw, and he's now Officer William Shaw. Working with him at Smith and Manning at the same time was Jimmie Walker of the Shawsheen shift who can tell about Len's generosity in giving away dead dogs, etc.

Len worked at Smith and Manning's for 23 years until 1918 when he left to join the police force. Shortly afterwards Smith and Manning gave up business, although Len says there's no causal connection there at all. The real reason for Len's departure from the grocery business was an operation which he had undergone, following which his doctor told him that he'd better stop throwing barrels of flour around. Lew Pomeroy was chief at the time, and the force consisted of three men, the other two being Billy Frye and the late sergeant Napier. Len was on the early evening shift for ten years.

This makes Len the oldest man in point of service and in point of years on the police force. And he's also the tallest, measuring six feet two.

Mrs. Saunders died four years ago. There are two daughters, Ruth who is a monotype operator here at the Press, and bride-to-be Helen, a bookkeeper at Thayer McNeils. Both were born here. He has two sisters, Mrs. Winslow Goodwin and Mrs. Anne Alley, both of Wilmette, Illinois, and a brother George of West Newbury.

Len's father, James Saunders, was for over ten years janitor in the town hall. Mr. Saunders was a G. A. R. man, having fought for the Union throughout the Civil War. He died at the age of 85, being one of the last of Andover's contingent of the Grand old army.

Len's favorite diversion is fishing. Every summer in his vacation Len beats it off to New Hampshire to fish, and he also likes to try for salt water fish, although in his most notable salt water trip, aboard Shep's yacht, he came nearer feeding than catching fish.

Annual Banquet Held by Square and Compass

About 75 members and guests were present Tuesday night at the annual banquet held by the Square and Compass club in the club hall. Vice president Charles Scott presided.

George Gillette and Florence Fleming of Boston provided the entertainment. Gillette sang hill-billy songs and rivalled Bob Burns's bazooka with his playing on a number of curious instruments. Miss Fleming played on the accordion and on the piano and also presented dialogues.

The committee in charge of the banquet: Dana W. Clark, chairman; David L. Coutts, Joseph W. Higginson and Carl E. Elander.

The entertainment committee: Rowland L. Luce, chairman; Charles E. Foster, Harry W. Wadman, Norman I. Bearse and Walter E. Billings.

Those present: William A. Allen, Foster C. Barnard, Henry W. Barnard, W. Shirley Barnard, Norman I. Bearse, Alexander Beedie, Samuel D. Berry, Henry A. Bodwell, Matthew Burns, Everett D. ## MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

Mrs. William E. Davis was tendered a miscellaneous shower recently at the home of Mrs. John R. Sullivan, Red Spring road, in honor of her recent marriage. The house was prettily decorated in pink and white.

Mrs. Davis was the recipient of many beautiful gifts which she opened under a large bell filled with rose petals. An enjoyable evening was spent with musical selections and games being played.

Refreshments were served during the evening by the hostess.

The following were present: Mrs. William Simpson of Woburn; Mrs. C. Vose, Mrs. Harry Robertson of Methuen, Mrs. Edward Sullivan, Mrs. Charles Valentine, Mrs. John Auchterlonie, Mrs. Daniel Sharpe, Mrs. Thomas Davies, Mrs. Elizabeth Ferrier, Mrs. Robina

Sullivan, Mrs. Elizabeth McDermitt, Mrs. Edward Anderson, Mrs. A. Guthrie, Mrs. Samuel Forsythe, Mrs. Mark Keane, Mrs. James Valentine, Mrs. Henry Pomeroy, Miss Etta Brown, Miss Lillian Brown, Mrs. William McDermitt, Mrs. John Sullivan, Mrs. William Davis of Andover and Mrs. Fred Ferlito of Lawrence.

To Be Represented at Birthday Ball

The local post of the American Legion will be represented with colors at the Birthday Ball of the President at the Boston Garden tonight. A military pageant is to be sponsored by the State Legion as part of the entertainment.

Those attending from Andover will be: Commander Stafford A. Lindsay and Adjutant Joseph McCarthy; color bearers Thomas Dea and Percy Dole; color guards, Harold Peters and Joseph Remmes.

The post will meet Thursday evening.

TO AWARD REFRIGERATOR

Plans are progressing for the party to be held by St. Augustine's parish on February 9. A Norge refrigerator will be awarded.

Punchard Boys Defeated Twice

Punchard high's basketball team lost two games this week, one to Methuen and the other to Tewksbury. On Monday they will play Needham here and Wednesday they go to Woodbury.

Methuen 43—Punchard 23

Both first and second basketball teams of Punchard high went down to defeat last Friday evening before the Methuen teams at the Memorial gym. In the main encounter the varsity found themselves no match for the sharp-shooting of Bent and Byrnes, who accounted for 27 of the Methuen team's 43 points, equalling the Punchard total.

Polinski with four baskets and Noyes with three baskets and one from the foul-line led the way for Punchard. Walker made two of each, Shattuck one of each, with Barrett's basket from the floor and Wallace's from the foul-line completing the local scoring.

The Punchard team: l.g., Walker, Flanagan; r.g., Polinski; c., Shattuck, Noyes, Weeks; l.f., Barrett; r.e., T. Wallace.

The seconds were able to make only 14 points to Methuen's 33, Grenville alone netting six more points than the Punchard total. Miller scored two baskets and one from a foul, and Gordon did the same. Flanagan scored two points on a shot from the floor, with R. Wallace and Sellars each counting once from the foul-line.

The line-up: l.g., Proctor, Gordon; r.g., Weeks, Gesing; c., Sellars, Davis; l.f., Miller; r.f., Flanagan, R. Wallace, Carey, Saunders.

Tewksbury 23—Punchard 12

Inability to sink baskets cost the Punchard high team a 23 to 12 defeat at the hands of the Tewksbury high team at the Memorial Gym Monday afternoon. Not a single player scored more than once from the floor for Punchard, with Walker adding three foul shots to his one shot from the floor to lead the Punchard scorers. Shattuck and Barrett also scored once from the floor, with Shattuck, Polinski and Flanagan scoring one each from fouls.

The Punchard lineup: l.g., Walker; r.g., Polinski, Gordon, Flanagan; c., Shattuck; l.f., Barrett; r.f., T. Wallace, Noyes.

The Punchard seconds won 12 to 9 over the Tewksbury seconds. Miller, Flanagan and Weeks scored one each from the floor, Flanagan added three on fouls, Gordon two and Miller one. Also seeing action were Carey, Sellars and Davis.

Andover Team in Complete Rout

A disorganized Andover F.C. soccer team went down to a 7-0 trouncing Sunday afternoon as the many times postponed replay with the Sao-Miguels finally was played, the bad weather holding off until the second period. With Dundas and Densvitch failing to show up, and Simes and Smith leaving the game fifteen minutes before the end, the local team was sadly handicapped.

Sandy Campbell out on the wing and Munro in the half-back line fought hard throughout, but their efforts could not make up for the fine playing of the visitors and the poor playing of the Andover team. The Sao-Miguels netted two in the first half, and then ran riot in the second.

Andover's playing was far from sportsmanlike, McIntyre protesting on two penalty kicks by childishly booting the ball away. Simes also protested and later left the game. Smith, injured, followed a few minutes later.

The local line-up:

Lee, g.; Barclay, l.f.; McAllister, r.f.; McIntyre, l.h.; Munro, c.h.; Simes, r.h.; Cowgill, o.l.; Smith, i.l.; McGrath, c.; Beveridge, i.r.; Campbell, o.r.

Borah's Record Equalled on Hill

Phillips academy's athletic teams did not fare so well last Saturday, dropping three out of five encounters. The track team opened its season by a 40 1-3 to 27 2-3 victory over the Northeastern fresh team, but the Husky freshmen defeated Andover 34 to 20 in basketball here and 4 to 3 in hockey at the Arena.

The North Quincy high wrestling team, nemesis of the Blue and White for several years, finally succumbed to the local team, 16 1-2 to 7 1-2, with the high school lads putting up a plucky fight in every instance against Coach Carlson's grapplers. Two of the bouts went into overtime, one being a draw.

Brightest spot on the blue horizon Saturday was the performance of Fred Victor who brought back memories of Charley Borah, speed king of the '20's who later flashed out in California. Charley's time of 4 3-5 seconds in the 40-yard dash has remained inviolate since he established it in 1925, but on Saturday, Victor, who has been in school for three years, but who did not compete last year, dashed across the cage floor in the same time as Charley did. This was the first time that the mark has been equalled.

The academy swimmers went down to New Haven where they gained the rather dubious honor of placing third in a triangular meet, the opponents being the Yale freshmen and Lawrenceville. Not even the usual grounds for Andover satisfaction in a defeat by a Yale team—the presence of a number of Andover graduates in the yearling ranks—could be found to assuage the defeat by the freshmen and Al Heely's boys from New Jersey. The scores were: Yale 37, Lawrenceville 30, and Andover 20. In dual scores Lawrenceville defeated Andover 42 to 24 and Yale won 39 to 27.

Frank DiClementi's basketball team had won three straight before the Husky freshmen arrived, and at half time it looked as if there were a real possibility that it might be four straight. But the last half saw only two Andover baskets scored.

Down at the Arena the Andover hockey team, handicapped by lack of ice to practice on, went down 4 to 3 in a glorious defeat before the Husky freshmen. The Northeastern six led by one goal at the end of the first period, and this lead they held as Andover matched goal for goal in the last two periods.

On Wednesday afternoon the basketball team staged a hard third period offense to defeat the Lawrence academy team 30-20, with Anderson and Dudan being the high scorers. The jayvee track team, however, lost to Lowell high.

Town Team Wins YMHA Encounter

A second half drive gave the Andover town basketball team a 35 to 22 win over the Lawrence Y. M. H. A. at the Memorial gym Monday night. The town team led by two points at the quarter and at the half, but Dougherty's and Skea's playing in the last half put the game on ice.

Scorers for Andover were: Skea four and one; Fettes two and three; Doherty five from floor; McKee one from floor; Connors one from floor; Porter two from floor; Tyrie one from foul.

Others playing were Holden, Jackson and Lowe.

On Tuesday night the Town team went to Beverly where they forfeited a game to the Gardner A. C. five. Coach Milton Blanchard called the team off the floor in the final period when the playing became too rough. The local team was trailing 30 to 25 at the time.

Nashua 42—Seconds 22

The Nashua B and M team defeated the town team seconds 42-22 in the preliminary game, despite the fact that the town team first-string men all played. Tyrie scored five from the floor, Doherty two and one, Fettes two from the floor, Connors one from the floor and Porter one from a foul.

Others who did not score and did not play in the first-string game were: Duff, Henderson, Sparks, Gorrie.

BASKETBALL MONDAY

The Andover Town basketball team will meet the St. Augustine's team of Lawrence Monday evening in the Memorial gym at seven. The second teams will also meet.

SLATTERY CLASS PLANS WHIST

The Margaret Slattery class held its monthly meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Rosalie Wood on Chestnut street. Plans were made for a whist party to be held in the near future at the home of Mrs. David MacDonald on Upland road. A minstrel show rehearsal was also held.

Refreshments were served by Miss Wood, Evelyn Schubert, Marion Silva and Mary Marr.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Isabel MacKenzie of Whittier street February 23.

Junior Girls Win;
Other Classes Lose

The Punchard junior girls' basketball team was the only aggregation able to defeat a Methuen team last Friday, winning over the Methuen juniors 19-11, while the Punchard seniors lost 7-3 and the sophomores lost 20-18.

The juniors took an early lead and held it throughout, with Dorothy Babb's playing in the last half putting the game on ice. The sophomores lost a heart-breaker by two points after leading 14-12 as the game entered the final stanza with Miss Burbine scoring all the Punchard points. Neither senior team scored in the first quarter and each scored two points in the second quarter, with the Methuenites forging ahead after half-time.

The local lineups: seniors: l.g., Hackney, Martineau; r.g., Beer, Hackney; s.c., McNulty; j.c., Hardy; l.f., Deyermund, D. Connelly; r.f., Goebel, Beer.

Scorers: Goebel from floor, Beer from foul.

Scorers: from floor Babb 4, Rice 3, Batcheller 2, from foul Babb.

Sophomores: l.g., Breen; r.g., Anderson; s.c., Dantos; j.c., Stowers; l.f., Smith, Burbine; r.f., Robinson, Hetherington.

Scorers: Burbine 9.

Etchings, Engravings in Art Exhibit

produced by the processes which are explained and illustrated in the print-making section of the exhibition on the second floor of the Addison Gallery.

Distinction in Prints

These methods of making several copies of one drawing, were used by artists and craftsmen before the invention of mechanical reproductions done by machinery on a large scale. Here the distinction should be made between mechanical reproductions which are also prints but which however excellent can never be identical with the original work by the artist; and etchings, lithographs or woodcuts which are prints made by hand. In making the latter the artist works on the block or plate with the prints in mind as the finished product, and therefore prints, no matter how many are made, are the original works of art.

As the modern methods of making popular reproductions and illustrations, replaced the use of the hand-made prints, the latter were more and more restricted to the enjoyment of connoisseurs and collectors. Among the tools and materials shown in the printmaking exhibit, some of the modern plates have been scored across with scratches and gashes; this is called "destroying" the plate, and it is done to prevent any more prints being made from it. While there is a limit to the quantity of impressions which one plate will yield, particularly in the case of dry-point, it is quite obvious that these plates were destroyed, long before they had become too much worn to produce good prints. Of course the plates were destroyed to keep the number of prints low and the prices high. The prints made before destroying the plate are supposed to be numbered and signed by the artist, usually by agreement with the dealer that sells them. This practice started in the last half of the nineteenth century, when the vogue for collecting etchings, as one would collect rare stamps or autographs, began and some prints often reached a collector's value, quite apart from their artistic merits.

Rembrandt, Hogarth, Daumier, did not limit editions of their prints in this way; they printed as many as they could sell or the plate would yield, and often sold the prints at moderate prices; in their day it was not necessary to have much money to acquire a good collection only taste. It is this happy state of affairs which Rockwell Kent wanted to bring back, and which the American Artists Group feel they have now done. In the catalogue of their exhibition they say that while there will always be the public for the limited and signed type of print—in some respects of higher quality—still unlimited and unsigned prints made from other plates by the same artists should be made available to the public, as they were during three and a half centuries, for the price of a book, or a concert or theatre ticket.

They have therefore put out a series of prints—lithographs, etchings, wood-cuts and wood-engravings—which are being shown and sold all over the country at the uniform price of $2.75. The durability of the plates and blocks has been increased by the use of modern invention such as steel facing; the prints are said to be pulled by hand on a commercial scale by professional printers. Naturally, they cannot be signed and the subtle variations in effects which can be produced by the artist when he prints himself are absent, but in other respects these $2.75 models are not inferior to artists' proofs by the same men and women for which high prices are paid.

Frames and boxes to fit the prints can also be bought from the Association. The mats are of uniform size, to allow any print in the series to be placed in the same frame and so changed, in the Japanese manner, from time to time on the wall; some of the prints as a result suffer a little from the proportions of the mat.

I think that the double matting device by which a fake signature appears over the part of the print where the signature usually is, is unnecessary and ugly. But these are only details which could be changed in any case by re-matting.

If I had three dollars—allowing a quarter for the new mat—I would be tempted to buy, I think, the lithograph by Waldo Peirce, of a young woman playing with her children on a windy shore. The Marin etching also attracts me; the sail boat rocking briskly along the curling waves, full of light and movement though circumscribed by arbitrary lines that somehow make me think of a souvenir from a summer resort enclosed in glass.

Then there is the lithograph by Adolf Dehn, the moose bathing in the lake in the rays of the early morning sun; his horns pleasingly repeat the design of the spiky hollow tree trunks on the bank. And I like the curious cats of Wanda Gag, peering through the rubber plants; but I see that I have already exceeded my three dollar limit.

Attend Mid-Winter Federation Meeting

The Federated Garden Clubs of Massachusetts held their midwinter conference at Horticultural Hall on Wednesday, January 27th.

Several Andover Garden Club members availed themselves of this opportunity to hear two well known lecturers and also enjoyed a delicious buffet luncheon and chat with members of other clubs.

Hugh Findlay, the speaker in the morning, gave a delightful illustrated lecture with many witty remarks interspersed with sage advice. His topic was "Problems of a Small Garden."

The afternoon lecture was totally different although fully as interesting: "Theory of Design in Flower Arrangement," by Mr. John Taylor Arms, an eminent authority on design who gave many stimulating ideas by means of charts and flower pictures, as well as criticizing actual flower arrangements sent in by various garden clubs.

Miss Bessie P. Goldsmith, Mrs. John Stewart, Mrs. Roswell Gallagher, Mrs. Leonard James, Mrs. Alden Taylor and Mrs. Philip Cole were the Andover Garden Club members attending.

LEGION AUXILIARY MEETS

Several reports were received last night at the meeting of the Legion auxiliary in the post rooms. Miss Ethel Hilton reported on the recent county council meeting held in Lynn and also on the annual banquet. Mrs. Joseph Miller reported on the successful bakery sale recently held. Beano followed the meeting.

TELEGRAM ON RED CROSS

The second telegram from Admiral Grayson reads as follows: "Because relief needs in flooded areas of Ohio and Mississippi valleys increasing every hour as continued rains send rivers to highest levels in history with more than 400,000 persons driven from homes urge you to double your relief fund quota and go as far beyond the doubled figure as possible—stop—we are contributing million dollars from national funds—stop—300 Red Cross relief workers now in disaster areas giving immediate emergency relief to flood refugees—stop—350 Red Cross nurses in field engaged in battle against feared epidemic—stop—food clothing bedding medical supplies being rushed by train truck and boat—stop—rescue work continuing at top speed—stop—please intensify your campaign efforts and keep me advised daily of amount raised—stop—feel confident your people will not fail in this great national emergency."

Teacher (pointing to a deer at the zoo):
"Johnny, what is that?"
Johnny: "I don't know."
Teacher: "What does your mother call your father?"
Johnny: "Don't tell me that's a louse!"

Former Punchard Principal Passes

Frank Otis Baldwin, 83, principal of Punchard school from 1888-1894 and from 1895 to 1902, passed away on Sunday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Florence Lee, wife of Professor Oliver J. Lee of Northwestern university, in Evanston. He had been in good health, although he had retired in 1917.

Mr. Baldwin was born in Malden in August, 1853, and graduated from Dartmouth, Phi Beta Kappa. In addition to his local school work he was connected with schools in Lynn and in Webster City, Iowa.

Frank Otis Baldwin

At one time Mr. Baldwin occupied a secretarial position with a Congressman in Washington and he also held a business position in Lynn. For several years prior to his retirement he was Chicago manager for the John A. Roebling Sons Corporation.

After retiring he lived with Mrs. Baldwin in Beloit, Wis., and since her death he had lived with the Lees. Professor Lee is professor of astronomy and director of the Dearborn observatory at Northwestern.

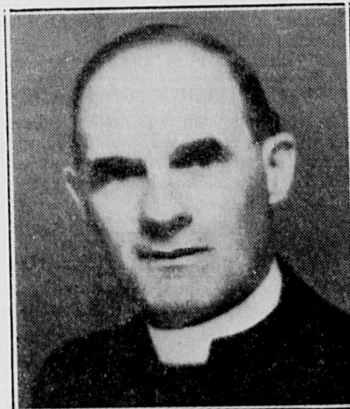

Mrs. Lee is the only survivor, a son Ralph, having died while a student at Dartmouth.

PRESENTED GIFTS

Gerald Todd of 43 Balmoral street was presented a chair and smoking stand by his friends at the Shawshen Mills office on Wednesday afternoon in honor of his recent marriage. Supper was enjoyed at the office.

A miscellaneous shower was held in Bradford recently at the home of Mrs. Richard Adams in honor of Mrs. Todd. Those attending from the village were Mr. and Mrs. Luther Leighton, Kenneth Wade, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Todd and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Todd.

Sportsman's Club Elects Officers

Ellsworth Roby was elected president of the Andover Sportsmen's club at the annual meeting held last night at the home of James K. Selden, 42 School street. The annual reports received from the various committees all testified to the very successful year that the club has just had and the even more successful year promised for 1937.

Montville E. Peck was elected vice president, James A. Ridings secretary and Fred Gould treasurer. Committee chairmen named were: game, Albert E. Foss; fish, Sidney Gould; skeet, Joseph I. Pitman; small arms, Mr. Peck; ways and means, Gordon R. Cannon; field day, Robert Cyr; delegates to Essex County League, Charles A. Gregory, Mr. Foss, Fred and Sidney Gould, Mr. Cannon; alternates, Mr. Pitman, Mr. Roby, Mr. Peck, Mr. Ridings and Maurice Curran, Jr.

Messrs. Selden and Curran were admitted as new members.

Mr. Ridings, the new secretary, may be reached at his home, 33 High street, telephone 398W, by anyone who wishes information about the club.

ELECT VICE-PRESIDENT

Beano was played Wednesday evening following the meeting of the British War Veterans. Mrs. Peter Doherty was elected vice president.

Abbot Academy Notes

A group of about forty girls will attend the Saturday afternoon performance of "Pride and Prejudice" in Boston this week.

Miss Evelyn K. Wells, instructor in English Literature at Wellesley college, will give a talk on "English Folk Songs and Dances" on Saturday evening at eight o'clock. The public is cordially invited to this lecture.

President Laurens Seelye of St. Lawrence University will be the vespers speaker on Sunday evening.

Midyear examinations will be held at Abbot academy on February third, fourth and fifth.

A tea was given Wednesday afternoon at the academy in honor of Miss Hearsey and Mrs. Claude M. Fuess. The guests included the wives of Phillips academy instructors, the Abbot faculty and several members of the administrative staffs of both schools.

JOHN-ESTHER GALLERY OPEN

John-Esther Art gallery, Abbot academy will be open to the public, Tuesday, February 2, from two to five p.m. Besides its permanent collection, the gallery is showing a loan exhibition of water colors by Sally Cross Bill and Carol Bill. This exhibition of water colors depicting Spanish scenes will continue until February 22.

TO ATTEND BANQUET

Representatives of the local unit of the V.F.W. auxiliary will attend the banquet to Commander Joel L. Miller Saturday February 20, at the Hotel Bradford, it was decided at the meeting Wednesday night. A meeting of the Essex county council will be held Sunday at Saugus.

A. P. C. TO MEET

One Man Dead in Crash on By-Pass

Derry Man Pinned Under Car Which Hurtled Down By-Pass Hill Friday Evening

Pinned under a car which had turned over several times on a hill near the state police barracks, George T. Burdette of 7 Central street, Derry, N. H., was instantly killed last Friday evening about 5:30. Three others were slightly injured, a little farther along the by-pass than the spot at which the North Carolina deformed salesman met his death last fall, as Andover's 1937 fatality record got off to an early start.

Dr. Albert Constantino of Haverhill, driver of one of the cars, reported that he was proceeding toward Haverhill and was near the top of the slight incline about 300 yards from the barracks when a car came along in the opposite direction, suddenly raced diagonally across the three-lane highway and crashed into him. His car was pushed up against the embankment at the side of the road, and he and a passenger, Joseph Moreau of Haverhill, were pinned in the car. They had to knock on the windows to attract passersby. Neither was seriously injured, although the doctor sent Moreau home.

Marks in the roadway and embankment testified to the course of the other car after the crash. For about 20 yards there were scrapings along the concrete as if the car had scraped along on its rim or its axle, and then it hit the banking, turning over and over until it stopped 90 yards away down near the bottom of the hill.

Body Under Car

Dr. Constantino said that when he was able to get out of his car, he ran down to the other where he found George Ivon also of Derry walking around in a daze. Under the car he found Burdette, and with the help of some passersby they extricated the body from beneath the wreckage. Burdette was dead.

Both cars were wrecks, several of the wheels having been smashed off.

State police covered the accident. The body was not removed until medical examiner Dr. John J. Deacy arrived and authorized its transfer to the undertaking rooms of Everett M. Lundgren. He found no skull fracture, but decided that death was caused by internal injuries. A collarbone was fractured.

Ivon was removed to the Lawrence General hospital in the ambulance. He was held over-night for observation under state police guard. Later he was charged with drunkenness.

State police were unable to say which man was driving. Ivon claimed that Burdette was.

Yesterday morning Judge Chandler ordered Ivon held in bonds of $1,000 for the grand jury on charges of manslaughter, operating to endanger, operating without a license, operating under the influence and drunkenness.

Garden Club to Hear 4-H Talks

The next meeting of the Andover Garden Club will be held at Phillips Inn on Tuesday at 10 a.m.

The speakers will be George L. Farley, State 4-H Leader, and Fred A. Smith, Director of the Essex County Agricultural School. The real purpose of the day is to acquaint the Andover Garden Club members with these organizations, their aims, procedures and results down through the years. Mr. Farley handles the 4-H programs on the radio (WBZ) every Saturday at 1:30 p.m.

To Change Water Rate Collection

Changes in the method of collecting water rates will be made if the voters pass a special article which is probably to be inserted in the annual warrant at the request of the Board of Public Works. The proposed article asks that the town accept Chapter 391, Acts of 1923, relative to the collection of water rates.

The act provides that if the rates and charges are not paid within sixty days after their due date, these charges shall be a lien upon such real estate. A record would be filed in the registry of deeds when the bill is unpaid, and the lien shall continue for one year from the first day of October next following. After filing the record, the water department will commit the unpaid account to the collector of taxes, who is to proceed to collect in the usual manner, having the privilege of selling the land for non-payment. Interest clauses are also included.

The act is in effect in North Andover and other surrounding towns.

Unusually Quiet in Political Campaign

Political activity continued quiet again this week with only a few more candidates taking out papers, all for minor offices.

In addition to the names mentioned in the Townsman during the past several weeks, there are two more candidates for the much sought-after position of tree warden: James Boardman of 147 Haverhill street and James Darby of 94 Maple avenue.

Walter Tomlinson, appointed last year to the planning board to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Selectman Roy E. Hardy, is candidate for the two-year unexpired term.
